Indivisible HoCoMD

A yellow starburst or sunburst graphic is positioned behind the "HoCoMD" portion of the title.

On Friday Parkland students kicked off a national tour. They plan to go to 20 states and cover all congressional districts in FL. They are continuing their movement and will also be registering people to vote. RSVP to find an event near you.

ACTIONS

IMMIGRATION

June 18, 21 OR 25 the Supreme Court will release its decision on the pending challenge to the latest iteration of the Muslim/travel ban.

Indivisible Baltimore and one of our partners, the Council on American Islamic Relations (CAIR), will be holding an emergency rally that same day at 6:00 pm, most likely in front of Baltimore City Hall. Whichever way the Court rules, the goal is to have as many folks there as possible standing in solidarity against the White House's Islamophobic, xenophobic agenda. Similar rallies are being planned around the nation, all coordinated through a national leadership coalition.

We wanted to let you know as early as possible, so that you can mark your calendars for 6:00 PM on June 18, 21 or 25, RSVP to the Facebook event, and spread the word to your networks to do the same. You will be updated as plans evolve after you RSVP.

An earlier RSVP link was changed to that above. If you signed up using the early one, you may receive an inaccurate notice that the event has been cancelled.

ELECTIONS

Former Texas
Congressman Blake

Farenthold resigned to avoid an adverse finding on ethics violations.

Because he resigned when he did, the State of Texas was required to hold a June 30th Special Election for just a few months remaining in the term. Democrat Eric Holguin was the winner in the Democratic Primary - after a Runoff - and will face off against the Republican nominee for this open seat in November. But, since there are still a few months to go in the current term, he has to run a 3rd time in just a few months. Voters have election fatigue and they might still have to face another runoff (for the Special Election) before they start getting campaigned for November.

This is where you come in. We have a whole Congressional District's-worth of Democratic voters to remind about this unusually-scheduled June election. It's a long list of voter addresses and we only have a week to finish writing the postcards before they must be mailed to arrive in time. We've been writing for a week already. But, we need more of you to pick up your pens for 5-10 addresses apiece. Contact teuk369@gmail.com to get cards and instructions, or sign up directly with <https://postcardstovoters.org/>

A win in Wisconsin!

Caleb Frostman, one of the special election candidates we promoted, won a northeast Wisconsin state Senate seat on Tuesday in a race widely seen as a bellwether for key elections in the fall.
